THE CWHA MUSEUM IS OPEN!

Camp White Historical Association President Mel Cotton, former Captain, Artillery, C Battery, 347th FA, 91st Infantry Division, proudly announces the dedication and opening of the Camp White Historical Association Military Museum on the ~~11th~~ hour of the 11th day of November 1997 in Building 200 on the DVA Domiciliary Campus. The Domiciliary was the Camp White Hospital During World War II. It is located just north of White City, Oregon on Highway 62.

Through the help of its members and donors the Museum has thousands of items of memorabilia. There are pictures, maps, books, citations from Medal of Honor, Distinguish Service Cross Silver Star and Legion of Merit decorations. The Museum will be open from 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM daily to assist all interested in Military History to find that special item that you need to complete your research. The library has a wide range of books dealing with all aspects of military history. President Cotton says that, "If you can not find the information that you need in our archives, I will find soldiers in the Rogue Valley who took part in and know of that portion of World War II history that you are researching."

The Department of Veteran's Affairs is further honoring the 91st Division by naming one of it's streets, "91st Division Drive". The DVA is also honoring all units who served at Camp White during the World War II years by dedicating a splendid park with monumental boulders, impressively positioned, carrying bronze plaques honoring Camp White units.

Please plan an early visit to the Camp White Military Museum sponsored by the Camp White Historical Association. Enjoy the great pictorial displays that honors the 91st Infantry Division and all other units stationed at Camp White. See the display of uniforms for both men and women and from the various services. Be proud that your membership in the CWHA has made all of this possible. The many donations representing military memorabilia from all services and theaters of combat are a great treasure that will become more and more valuable as the years pass on. If you have any military memorabilia from any war or any service that you would like to be certain remains a part of the history of your military service or the service of any of your family members, please contact the CWHA.
